

High-Impact School Leadership

BINGO

Evaluate your impact as a leader this week.	Reflect on the feedback you give. Could it better support learning?	Engage in a professional dialogue with a colleague.	Reflect: What are your beliefs about whether all teachers and students can improve?
Use data to inform your next steps this week.	Build a new relationship with a teacher, staff member, or student.	Show a teacher how assessment data can inform their next instructional step.	Write 5 open-ended questions you can ask teachers to positively impact their professional learning.
Make a list of questions you can ask students about their learning.	Finish this statement: I made an impact on student learning today by...	Reflect and act on feedback you've received as a leader.	Learn from someone else.
Collaborate w/a peer to make more progress and increase your impact.	Review and analyze current assessment data around an area of concern.	Model that it is okay to make a mistake at school.	Plan an activity to help teachers improve student learning.
Focus on student learning this week.	Ask staff members for feedback about your impact as a leader.	Register for 5238: Practical Strategies for High-Impact Leadership.	Do one thing today to make your school a safe place to learn.

